Black Hawk II Equipped With HDTV

It's right before your eyes ...

In a tactical move to strengthen the visual impact of your bingo operation, improve its functionality, and of course, make it even more enjoyable to play, Video King® has added an exciting new element to its fleet of Black Hawk™ bingo consoles.

These sleek, black laminate desks now come equipped with flat-screen TVs, mounted to the front of the machine.

By zeroing in on the console, not only can players focus on the caller – in the seat of all the action - but also view the ball call on the monitor and/or other flashboard images.

And, the benefits could go beyond the scope of the game in play, according to Brian Jenkins, Video King's Director of Manufacturing.

Integrates With Other Media

The Black Hawk II™ has the ability to integrate with other media hardware, meaning you can watch television and cable programs, PowerPoint presentations and even videos on its high-definition screen.

For optimal viewing, the 43-inch monitor can also be tilted up or down, depending on staging needs, he said.

In fact, the Black Hawk II could revolutionize the way Bingo is played.

“When you walk into a bingo hall, typically the tables all face away from the caller stand. This could change the way the bingo hall is set up. It would draw the players' attention to the caller, making it more engaging,” he said.

Money-Saver, Easy To Assemble

And, it could also save halls money, by serving as an all-in-one unit.

“You wouldn’t have to have TVs all around the room, a bonus feature for the smaller halls,” he added.

Nor is it difficult to assemble. The mounts are already attached to the console. The TV ships at the same time, yet in separate boxes.

“It’s super easy to install. No screws or tools are needed. You just insert the TV in place,” he said.

High-Quality, Time-Tested, Yet Affordable

Modeled after Video King’s PowerPlay popular 500 Series™, The Black Hawk II includes much the same features, such as touch-screen computer and three-channel video switch, in case you want utilize additional screens.

That’s because the PowerPlay 500, touted as the most economical, full-featured console on the market today, has a proven track record, he said.

“A true workhorse, it has withstood the test of time, is high quality and affordable, working 24/7, 356 days a year.”

Standard Features Include:

- Touch-screen monitor with built-in speakers
- Standard PC technology
